Violations of the Law:

With reference to Article 36 of the Securities and Exchange Act and relevant regulations of Taiwan on the disclosure of material information, Advantech determines whether an incident is material based on its nature, scope of impact, and potential impact on our financial position, business performance, shareholders' interests, stock prices, or reputation. The term "major violation of the law" refers to violations of laws and regulations by Advantech or its directors, managers, or employees that have a material impact on Advantech (including impact on financial position, operations, or reputation) or result in severe penalties imposed by the competent authority. The threshold for disclosing a major violation of the law is NT$1 million.

After evaluation, the following violations of the law did not occur in 2025 (including fines and non-monetary sanctions):

Corruption and bribery incidents: 0 cases.The fine for corruption and bribery was NT$0.

Anti-competition, anti-trust, or monopolistic practice incidents: 0 cases

Discrimination and harassment incidents: 0 cases

Customer privacy data leakage incidents: 0 cases

Conflicts of interest, fraud, money laundering, or insider trading incidents: 0 cases

Significant pecuniary losses due to legal proceedings or penalties this year and political contributions: NT$0

There were no violations of the code of conduct in 2025.